Conferences, Seminars and Workshops

162nd EAAE Seminar: The evaluation of new CAP instruments: Lessons learned and the road ahead

26-27 April, 2018: Budapest, Hungary

Theme: Analysis of CAP 2020 reform options in light of lessons learned since 2013.

The seminar focuses on the evaluation of the current CAP instruments as well as on possible scenarios of future CAP.

The first objective of the seminar is to bring together researchers working on the various topics within the overall theme of agricultural and food policies in order to stimulate discussions, collaborations and future research. The second objective is to take stock of the lessons learned since 2013 in CAP design and implementation. The third objective is to bring together research on possible ways and ideas how to reform the CAP after 2020. Contributions are sought from a variety of academic disciplines (e.g. political science, rural sociology, etc.) as well as agricultural economics, and from policy practitioners.

IAMO Forum 2018

27-29 June 2018: Halle (Saale), Germany

Agricultural production in transition and increasingly in developed and emerging economies is moving to larger farms. Highly integrated industrial-scale enterprises operating on hundred thousand hectares of farmland set new standards for agribusiness and attract growing interest on the part of non-agricultural investors.

The IAMO Forum 2018 aims to address the economic, social, institutional, and managerial aspects of large-scale agriculture by providing a platform for presenting and discussing research on the related issues.

The geographical focus of the conference is on the transition countries of Eastern Europe, the Former Soviet Union, and East Asia as well as developed and emerging countries in Europe, the Americas and Australia. We welcome contributions on topics such as:

- Corporate governance;
- Corporate social responsibility;
- Risk management and finance;
- Human resource management;
- Competition on factor and output markets;
- Welfare and distributional justice in rural areas, or
- Environmental implications and challenges.

The conference contributions may stem from a variety of methodological approaches ranging from micro-level analyses of farm management and econometrics to institutional, socioeconomic and geographic investigations of large-scale agribusiness at the regional and cross-national level. Inter- and transdisciplinary contributions are particularly welcome.

Important dates:

- Deadline for organized session proposals: 28 January 2018
- Deadline for extended abstracts: 25 February 2018
- Notification of accepted session proposals: 27 February 2018
- Notification of accepted extended abstracts: 23 March 2018
- Early bird registration deadline: 11 May 2018
- Final deadline for online registration: 08 June 2018

58th GEWISOLA annual conference: Visions for an agriculture and food policy after 2020

12 - 14 September 2018: Kiel, Germany

The 58th annual conference of the Gesellschaft für Wirtschafts- und Sozialwissenschaften des Landbaues e.V. (GEWISOLA) will be held from Wednesday 12 September 2018 to Friday 14 September 2018 at the University of Kiel.

Some of the most important global challenges of our time are being influenced by the framework conditions set by agriculture and food policies. Examples of these challenges include climate change, the conservation of biodiversity, the fight against hunger, poverty and poverty-linked migration, as well as a reduction in diet-related diseases. Decision-makers in politics, industry associations and the private sector are dependent on relevant analyses and scientifically substantiated recommendations for action. Making such recommendations is a key objective of economics and social sciences in the agricultural and food sector. These should aim at the long-term maximization of macroeconomic welfare through the sustainable management of natural resources. The key issues at the annual conference will be:

Which agricultural and food policy interventions are needed in certain markets, and why?

What should the future priorities of the EU's Common Agricultural Policy be?

What food policy measures are suitable for generating more sustainable consumption patterns?

How can buying behavior and societal policy goals be reconciled more effectively?

What role can new technologies (e.g. digitization) play in the sustainable use of resources along value chains?

What new scientific theories and methods appear to be particularly well suited to meeting the above challenges?

Important dates:

- Submission of suggestions for self-organized work groups/pre-conference activities: 1 February 2018 (confirmation of acceptance by 1 March 2018)
- Submission of written papers: 1 March 2018 (confirmation of acceptance by 31 May 2018)
- Submission of poster contributions: 3 April 2018 (confirmation of acceptance by 29 June 2018)
- Delivery of written papers revised in accordance with reviewers' comments for publication on the conference website and AgEconSearch: 15 August, 2018
- Delivery of the final version of written papers and the summary of posters for publication in the conference proceedings: 5 November 2018.

ICA2018 Research Conference: Cooperatives in a rapidly changing world: innovation in enterprise and community

4-6 July 2018: Wageningen, the Netherlands

In 2018, the International Cooperative Alliance (ICA) European Research Conference will be held in The Netherlands. At this conference, scholars, representatives of cooperatives and policy makers will exchange the state of the art on building and strengthening cooperatives in different sectors and different countries.

The key questions to be discussed at the ICA2018 Research Conference relate to innovation in enterprise and community. For the sustainability and resilience of the cooperative model, innovation is paramount. Which internal and external factors provide the fertile ground for such innovation? What are the key success factors for continuous (or renewed) member commitment and stakeholder legitimacy?

This year's theme is: Innovation in Enterprise and Community

Under this overarching theme, the conference will address a wide range of topics, including:

Innovations in internal governance

- The rise of producer organizations
- Resilience and sustainability of the cooperative model
- Strengthening member commitment
- Financial and sustainability performance
- Cooperative education
- Statistics on cooperatives
- Cooperatives and changing labor relations
- Cooperatives and big data

The conference will deal with all kinds of cooperatives, from different sectors and different countries and in different stages of the life cycle. This will lead to challenging and surprising new ideas and relations.

9th international workshop on Coop Finance and Sustainable Development

14-15 June 2018: Trento, Italy

Euricse announces the organization of the 9th Euricse International Workshop on Cooperative Finance and Sustainable Development. The workshop, organized in collaboration with the Department of Economics and Management of the University of Trento and Federcasse (Italian Federation of Cooperative Credit Banks), with the support of EACB (the European Association of Co-operative Banks), will be held in Trento, Italy on June 14th and 15th, 2018.

The organizers are then inviting papers that explore the following themes:

- Analysis of the contribution of coop banks to the real sector and of their actual performance;
- Regulation, competition policy and forced changes for coop banks: leveling or distorting the playing field?

- Making membership meaningful: revisiting the concept and procedures of retaining or re-establishing the link with local societies;
- Governance issues for coop banks deriving from consolidation, de-mutualization, re-mutualization and the use of hybrid structures;
- Ways to diversity the credit risk of the small coop banks without diverting them from their mission in support of local communities;
- Cooperative Banks in social finance: the current state of knowledge, best practices and future development potential deriving from coop banks' engagement in social finance to encourage sustainable development and social economy in Europe;
- Searching for fertile ground for the diffusion of the cooperative banking model: prerequisites, socio-economic coincidence and need within and beyond the European level.

A limited number of scholarships designed to encourage participation will be offered. For more details please visit our web site www.euricse.eu or write to organizational secretary conference@euricse.eu after January 2018.

Important dates:

Global forum for innovations in agriculture 2018

20-21 June, 2018: Utrecht, the Netherlands

THE WORLD'S ONLY EVENT DEDICATED TO SUSTAINABLE AGRICULTURE ACROSS ALL TYPES OF FOOD PRODUCTION

When the Global Forum for Innovations in Agriculture (GFIA) was launched in 2014 in Abu Dhabi, it leveraged partnerships with over 40 influential organizations such as the Food and Agriculture Organization of the UN, Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation and the World Bank, that wanted a platform to show the world how technology gives us the only real chance of feeding nine billion people without destroying the environment. With an established edition in Abu Dhabi, we are delighted to have launched GFIA Europe in the Netherlands, the region's largest exporter of agricultural produce.

THE EXHIBITION: Over 200 suppliers showcase hundreds of working products across all types of food production to help farmers and food producers improve productivity and profits

THE CONFERENCE: The main conference will host over 200 international delegates who will enjoy a powerful mix of keynote addresses, panel debates, innovation presentations and Q&A sessions.

22nd International Farm Management Congress: Growing Agriculture @ 41 Degrees South

3-8 March, 2019: Launceston, Tasmania

The theme for the 2019 Congress is Growing Agriculture @ 41 Degrees South – Excellence in farm management through innovation, diversification and integration with tourism.

The demand for food is increasing; we will need to increase food production by 70% by 2050. For some economies that depend strongly on agriculture, like Tasmania, there are attractive export opportunities for the supply of high quality and “quality assured” produce. What needs to happen for these opportunities to be realized?

The Congress will devote a number of sessions to presentations, discussions and workshops to examine what Governments, educators, researchers, consultants, farmers and commercial companies will need to do to capitalize on these opportunities.

The Congress program also includes 2 days of field tours visiting farms and related institutions in northern Tasmania, presentations on global “hot topics”, and contributed papers on the Congress sub-themes.

IFMA 22 is hosted by the Tasmanian Department of State Growth and the Tasmanian Institute of Agriculture (a joint venture between the University of Tasmania and the Department of Primary Industry, Parks Water and the Environment).

28th IFAMA World Conference

24-28 June, 2018: Buenos Aires, Argentina

IFAMA is pleased to announce the theme of the 28th IFAMA World Forum, Symposium and Student Case Competition, to be held in Buenos Aires beginning the last weekend in June 2018: Sustainable Food Security 2050

Disruptive Innovations: Better Business. Management. Science. Government.

FORUM

A high quality, thought-provoking Forum with international speakers from businesses, public sector, academia. The Forum languages are English and Spanish; Wi-Fi based simultaneous translation will be provided.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT CASE COMPETITION

IFAMA hosts the only global student case competition serving the agribusiness sector. This year, for the first time, it will be hosted in both English and Spanish. Teams will compete in one of these streams: Undergraduate, Intermediate, and Advanced. For the first time IFAMA will offer separate streams for English speaking and for Spanish speaking students.

SYMPOSIUM

A rich and stimulating international academic Symposium, with a Best Paper competition and a Best Case competition, in English and in Spanish.

As done in prior years, IFAMA plans to publish in a special issue of its leading academic journal, IFAMR, the Best Papers and Best Cases in English. A dedicated, peer reviewed e-volume in Spanish, with print on demand, will also be published by the same publisher of IFAMR, with the best Spanish contributions.

University Graduate Scholarships at College of Europe, 2018-2019

Open to: university graduates coming from European Neighborhood Policy countries (Algeria, Armenia, Azerbaijan, Belarus, Egypt, Georgia, Israel, Jordan, Lebanon, Libya, Moldova, Morocco, the Palestinian Authority, Syria, Tunisia and Ukraine)

Scholarship: academic expenses, accommodation, meals and travel costs

Description

College of Europe is offering large number of scholarships for university graduates coming from European Neighborhood Policy countries (Bruges campus and Natolin campus). These scholarships will be awarded to pursue postgraduate studies during the academic year 2018-2019.

The College is a private university/institution and can rely on an extensive network of contacts in European institutions, national administrations, international organizations, European universities and professional circles.

The two working languages of the College of Europe are English and French. Candidates can apply to some study programs with a lower command of one of these two languages. Occasionally students are admitted on condition that they improve specific language skills.

Eligibility

All applicants to the College of Europe must hold a relevant university degree. Admission to the College of Europe requires either a Bologna Master's degree, or a pre-Bologna equivalent degree, or a final university degree and at least 240 ECTS credits acquired in the course of one's university studies. Holders of a Bachelor degree are also eligible provided they demonstrate strong qualification in relation to the academic program for which they apply.

Application

All applicants to the College must hold a relevant university degree. Candidates must submit a formal application for admission, which consists of an online application. Applications need to be submitted with all the requested supporting documents before the closing date. All applicants, including students who do not apply for a scholarship, must indicate their selection committee (in principle according to their nationality) in the application form. Should there be no selection committee, please select "No selection committee – College of Europe".
